UNI-LIM™ AND PEDI-LIM™ ANESTHESIA CIRCUIT

LATEX FREE | SINGLE PATIENT USE | DISPOSABLE

The single-limb circuit is the optimal choice for your anesthesia circuit needs. It is designed to function as a standard circuit anesthesia breathing system with streamlined tube-within-a-tube and eliminated bulky connectors for a simple, efficient anesthesia circuit.
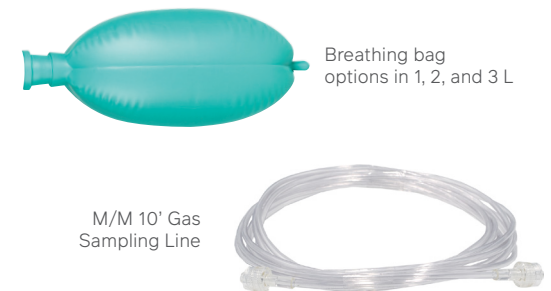

Elbow with gas sampling port

Inspiratory bacterial viral filter

Expiratory tube

The streamlined tube-within-a-tube creates a compact, light weight circuit

Expiratory bacterial viral filter

9810 Anesthesia Circuit Kit, 72" Uni-lim coaxial circuit, patient elbow with capped gas sample port, M/M GSL 10' , 2 B/V filter, 3L latex-free breathing bag, disposable

Breathing bag options in 1, 2, and 3 L
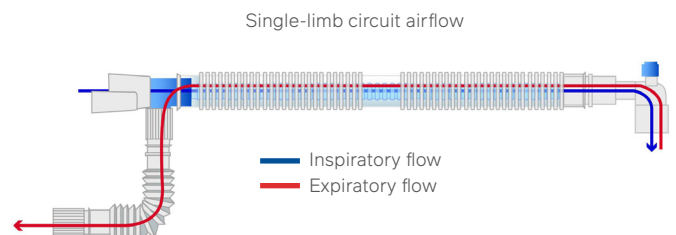

M/M 10' Gas Sampling Line

9812 Anesthesia Circuit Kit, 60" Pedi-lim coaxial circuit, patient elbow with capped gas sample port, M/M GSL 10' , 2 B/V filter, 1L latex-free breathing bag, disposable

Breathing bag options in 1, 2, and 3 L

M/M 10' Gas Sampling Line

UNI-LIM™ AND PEDI-LIM™ ANESTHESIA CIRCUITS

- Features a streamlined tube-within-a-tube design which eliminates twisting between the inspiratory and expiratory limbs

- Eliminates bulky connectors at the patient interface

- Provides natural heat and moisture conservation properties to that of a standard circle circuit

- Engineered with a secure-t inspiratory limb to prevent patient end disconnects — no floating internal tubes

- ISO-standard connections for secure, leak resistant attachments

Single-limb circuit airflow

— Inspiratory flow
— Expiratory flow
